Rozone's innovative Workshop Solutions include manual and automatic parts washers including the next generation in eco-friendly parts cleaning – ROWasher.

ROWasher is the solvent-free, safe alternative to harsh cleaning chemicals. This clever, eco-friendly parts washer uses a process called bioremediation to effectively self-recycle its own cleaning solution, minimising waste fluid generation, bringing cost savings to the user and lowering impact on the environment.

Additional products include a vehicle valeting range – all designed to effectively replace hazardous chemicals with water-based or safer solvent-based solutions.

Rozone's aim is to help companies reduce their costs, increase their efficiency, safeguard the health and safety of staff and customers whilst lowering their impact on the environment.
